

Tinnitus Australia (TA) is guided by the Tinnitus Australia Advisory Committee - a group of health professionals and people who are affected by Tinnitus who are interested and engaged in Tinnitus service provision and research. It is a collaboration of people working professionally, passionately, and ethically to eliminate the suffering experienced by people, their friends and families, due to tinnitus. The Committee meets regularly to shape the strategic approach of TA and provide advice to the CEO, Soundfair.

Tinnitus Australia Advisory Committee Members 2021

Paul Cavicchia, member

Paul (Panfilo) Cavicchia has been involved with Tinnitus Australia for 3 years working with chair Victoria Didenko. His commitment stems from being hearing impaired and a high-level tinnitus sufferer. Paul's professional history started as a corporate business accountant, transitioning into Teaching and Learning and Educational scholarship.

Paul has a strong background in health and medical colleges and as a PhD candidate has high level analytical and research skills, having published scholarship papers. As an advisory committee member his focus sits within Tinnitus research projects and funding